Jesse and Agi Rowe and family as they train at All Nations College for future service in East Asia—give thanks for the birth of Enok Muir just after Christmas

For all seeking to discern where God is calling them to serve in church, in the home, in the workplace and in retirement

Wednesdays

Give thanks and pray for our local engagement as a church:

Our work with other churches through Churches Together in Winchester

For chaplaincy to the day-time and night-time economies through the City Centre Chaplaincy and Street Pastors (a new cohort of Street Pastors is about to be trained—could that include you?)

For all from Christ Church involved in prison ministry and for David Hinks and Cliff McClelland (chaplains) and all the prison staff

The work of the Trinity Centre, Night Shelter, Basics Bank and Debt Counselling Team

For Prospects, Breast Cancer Support, Peri-natal Classes, and the Mental Health Unit who make regular use of the Church Centre in their work

For those involved in Winchester Bereavement Support Group and those they help

Ministry among staff and students at Peter Symonds (Peter Seal, the chaplain), Winchester University (Terry Biddington, Dean of Chapel, and Chris Day, Chaplain) and Southampton University School of Art (Katie Lawrence, chaplaincy work)

Work of Friends International among international students

For those involved in the Gideons as they distribute Bibles in places churches may find hard to reach

For the work of the hospital and Christine Whitehead the chaplain.

For the interaction of the church locally with the city and county councils and central government—for Steve Brine our MP

Westacre Nursing Home—for monthly visits to take communion

Where is God calling you to serve?

Give thanks and pray for our individual engagement:

For the people you regularly meet at your places of work, leisure and when shopping, to be salt and light to them

For those around where you live

For individuals and mission agencies you support as a household

More information on items in the prayer diary (and how to get involved) can be found at Connection Point in the concourse; by contacting the church office (01962 854454 /office@ccwinch.org.uk) or the church website www.ccwinch.org.uk.

Thursdays—Give thanks and pray for our life together

For growth in our personal and corporate spirituality, discipleship and pastoral care as we meet in small groups

Those struggling in their marriages or with their singleness

Those whose family situations have changed over the past year—marriage, birth, bereavement, retirement, redundancy; and those struggling to support each other across generations

Work of SAGES among those of an older generation

All who attend, lead, encourage and teach week by week in:

Crèche, Scramblers, Climbers, Xplorers, Little Oasis, Baby Oasis, Toddlers, Bumps and Babies, XPC, Pathfinders and Download

For Messy Church and Messy Dads

For the ministry of Oasis among women and for ministry among men

Where is God calling you to serve?

For our personal and corporate response to the challenge to pray, meet together, serve and celebrate

Fridays—Give thanks and pray for the leadership team at Christ Church:

Staff team: George Watkinson, Brian Wakelin, Dave Thornton, Carol Kent, Emily Bellerby, Ruth Kipling, Sam Dinsmore, Sue Collinson, Sarah Marshall-Ellison, Sophie Davis, Jess Ross, Charlotte Pascall, Paul Thomson, Liz Ord, Jack Percey and their families
